Lent Art

We have been asked to provide artwork for a Lent prayer station in our chapel again this year. Those who were here last year will remember how many people came to look at what we had made.

As we are a more dispersed community this year, I am hoping that we can each (either individually or in small groups as you prefer) create something to display, reflecting our different understandings of the text. All members of the Westminster community are welcome to create something. We will then gradually put these up in the back of the chapel, alongside the text which is 'The Trial by the Sanhedrin (as recorded in Luke 22: 66-71'.

I would like to kick-start this on Monday; so if anyone is free on Monday and would like to create some art, I will be in the art studio from 9 making a start and providing some creative prompts. The art studio will be open all day Monday. We need to have some things up by Wednesday, but can equally add to the display as Lent progresses.

If you are not around on Monday but would like to create something which reflects on the text in your own time, feel free to do so and either leave it in the chapel or ask us for help to display it :)

Media Slot

This week please have a look at the following link (Thanks to Matt for the suggestion):

There is a discount available for bulk-buying the walking the way resource books. If you would like to buy a set, please sign up on the common room notice board and we will put together an order.

Sit-up Competition

On Wednesday the 21st of February from 6pm, in the common room, Esther and Stephen are having a sit-up competition and would like to invite those who are up to the challenge to join in (personally, I will be watching from the sofa with pop-corn!)
