

Wedding Photography- The Media Guys

“Joe and Sam are brilliant photographers. They photographed our wedding in Cambridge in September. We are really pleased with the end results and have lots of very happy guests too. They captured the best moments of the day, were unobtrusive, friendly and professional and took lots of great action shots during our ceilidh. We would highly recommend the Media Guys. ”

Happy Wedding Wednesday!

As this day is FULL of all things wedding, we would like to share with you a company that are breaking into the wedding photography industry by storm. The Media Guys consists of, well, just that. Sam and Joe are two guys who have degrees in Editorial and Advertising Photography, but more importantly the passion to create.

They have been capturing the beautiful weddings of various clients since 2016, offering intimate photography and videography for the couples' special day.

In September 2018 The Media Guys spent the day at Westminster photographing the wedding of Rachel and Charlie (who you have probably seen dotted around our website and social media). Rachel, Charlie and The Media Guys have kindly allowed us to use their photos online which we are incredibly grateful for.

Please give them a follow and check out some of their work!
