

Wedding Photography- Gregg Brown

Gregg Brown is an Essex based Professional Wedding Photographer with over 10 year's experience in his field and is also one of our recommended suppliers. You may or may not know that Gregg photographed our Hospitality Manager Hannah's own wedding two years ago.

"I love being a wedding photographer and it is a privilege to be part of every couple's special day. I have been photographing weddings for more than 10 years and find my own experience of walking down the aisle helps me understand how important every moment of the day is. Working in a relaxed, considerate and unobtrusive manner, I aim to capture all the special moments without interrupting the celebrations. I take great pride in my photography and am delighted to receive such wonderful testimonials."

Gregg shoots a range of reportage, contemporary and candid wedding photography, creating perfect images to tell the story of your big day. Gregg is a popular Essex wedding photographer and also covers weddings in Cambridgeshire, Suffolk, Norfolk, the East of England and London.
